

Internet Privacy Statement

Thank you for visiting our website. We are committed to protecting your privacy online. We believe it is important that you are aware of how we treat any personally identifiable information you may provide to us. We make all reasonable efforts to handle your personal information in a secure and safe way. Security measures are taken to prevent unauthorized persons from gaining access to your personal information.

This Internet Privacy Statement applies to all personal information you share with us on the following websites owned and operated by ProScan Imaging, LLC or its Affiliates ("ProScan"):

- ◆ www.proscan.com
- ◆ www.proscanwomen.com
- ◆ www.MRIplanet.com
- ◆ www.proscanfoundation.com

This privacy statement applies only to information submitted and collected online through the websites listed above, and does not apply to information that may be collected by ProScan offline. This online privacy statement applies only to sites maintained by ProScan and not to sites maintained by other companies or organizations to which we provide links. We make links to other sites available to provide you with additional useful information and services, but we are not responsible for the content or activities provided on such sites. We encourage you to look for and review the privacy statement of any site you visit.

What types of information do we collect?

You may access most of ProScan's website(s) without registering with us. On certain areas of our sites, we will ask that you do register, in which case you will be asked to provide us with information about yourself and/or your company, such as name, title, e-mail address, address, phone number, credit card information, and other types of personally identifiable information. This enables us to provide you with services, products, and information. ProScan only collects information on a voluntary basis.

How do we use the information that we collect?

We will use your personally identifiable information to allow you to access interactive teaching files, register for education courses, subscribe to our newsletters, or requests information about our products and/or services. We may also use the information to occasionally notify you about offerings, promotions, products, courses, and/or functionality changes to the websites.

With whom do we share information?

ProScan does not sell, trade, rent or otherwise knowingly make your personal information you provide available online to those outside our organization, unless required to do so by law.

Information collected through use of cookies; secured servers

In several portions of our websites, we collect information about you and your use of our sites(s) through the use of "cookies." These are small computer files that we transfer to your computer's hard drive to grant you access to both secured and unsecured areas of our website, and are only used for session tracking. Cookies are required to gain access to the secured areas of our site. Access to these secured areas will not be granted if the cookie is rejected. We also use a variety of security techniques to protect your information, including secure servers, firewalls, and encryption of financial data.
